Stock Market Tests Strength Of Its Climb

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market, fully recovered from losses suffered in this week's severe slump, meets a critical test of its new-found strength today.

The securities industry, rocked by severe falls and rises, faces a possible investigation by Congress.

The market propelled its startling rally through a second consecutive session Thursday and more than made up the retreat of Monday and Tuesday morning. However, stock prices, declining since mid-March, remained far below their 1962 highs.

Buy orders swelled to mammoth proportions—a dramatic turnabout from the selling panic that earlier had gripped the market.

Trading continued at a hectic pace, totaling 10.71 million shares. The New York Stock Exchange's ticker tape was one hour and 46 minutes late at the close of trading.

The exchange ordered brokers to have representatives on the floor Saturday to clear the great mass of paper work.

Profit-taking cut into early gains and raised a threat to continuation of the forward march.

The American, Pacific Coast and Midwest stock exchanges also recorded big gains on heavy volume.

The congressional investigation was proposed by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., who asked Congress to appropriate $750,000 for an inquiry by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

"Congress ought to know what influences the stock market and how these influences affect the health of the business and credit systems," Patman said.

The Securities and Exchange Commission is investigating the securities industry and has uncovered some irregularities. Patman said the SEC probe is "good as far as it goes." He added that he wanted the congressional inquiry to be considered and well designed.

Earlier William Cary, chairman of the SEC, had denied a published report that his agency had ordered an investigation "to explore its suspicions that stock market professionals set the stage" for the plunge. He said he saw no evidence that professionals touched it off.

As for the future, Henri de la Chapelle of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis in Los Angeles said, "the swing of the pendulum is now at its peak and should die down over a period of days. The total decline in the last six months is almost a record and should mark a bottom that should hold for a summer rise for at least a 50 per cent retracement."

DiSalle Snorts As GOP Foe Opens Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Question No. 8 and a blast at his Republican gubernatorial opponent, State Auditor James Rhodes, featured Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's latest press conference.

DiSalle's blast was in regard to an auditor's examination of the operation of the governor's office and mansion begun last week.

"It may be purely coincidental but so far as I can find," DiSalle said, "this has not been done for at least six years."

"I doubt that it would have been done had I lost the primary. If this was an annual examination, I would think little of the timing of it."

No. 8 in a series of questions being posed by the governor for Rhodes asked: "Will you support state programs for the care of the aged at lower levels, existing levels or higher levels?"

Rhodes, who has answered the previous seven questions by saying only that the matter will be discussed in the campaign, was unavailable for comment.

Europeans Are Surprised By Swiftness of Hanging

LONDON (AP)—Israel's swift midnight hanging of Adolf Eichmann evoked surprise around the world today. Few expressed sympathy for the former Nazi officer, but the suddenness of his execution drew scattered murmurs of disapproval.

Across Europe, the frequent comment was: "It was about time."

"He got no better than he deserved," said an elderly housekeeper in West Berlin, where Eichmann once directed the Gestapo department charged with carrying out Hitler's "final solution to the Jewish problem"—extermination.

"After all, six million Jews; what can you expect?" commented a messenger boy in Paris.

"The least you can say was that it was a little his own fault, even though he said he followed orders," said a secretary. Many Parisians reacted to the news with a simple Gallic shrug of the shoulders and no regret.

But others expressed shock that Israel executed Eichmann within hours after his appeal for executive clemency had been rejected. Some said he should have been spared.

"Hanging won't do any good after all these years," said London bus driver Sidney Baines.

Factory worker George Clark added: "They hanged him for someone else. He's only taking the blame. What about the generals above him?"

The news reached Europe too late for morning newspapers to do more than splash big bold headlines on brief stories. Governmen-

Senator Seeks Tax Cut for Economy Sake

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., today urged a cut in individual and corporate income taxes "to strengthen the economy and the stock market."

"It will take more than expressions of friendship and cooperation from the White House and other areas of government to strengthen the market," Humphrey said in a statement.

"What is needed is action," he said. "Delay by Congress or the administration will bring further economic trouble."

The assistant Senate Democratic leader, who talked Thursday in New York with stock exchange officials and other financial leaders, proposed cuts of 2 to 4 per cent in corporate levies and 2 per cent in personal taxes.

Meanwhile, the recent gyrations of the stock market prompted Rep. Wright Patman, chairman of the Senate House Economic Committee, to ask Congress to approve a $750,000 investigation of the market by the House Banking and Currency Committee.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon told the House Ways and Means Committee Thursday the administration was not supporting any immediate income tax cut.

The Treasury has said, however, that such cuts probably will be proposed next year as a part of a tax overhaul measure which will include some provisions to increase revenues in other ways.

Astronaut Takes Time To Read Pile of Mail

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, who only one week ago orbited the earth three times, Thursday got down to the more mundane task of looking over his mail.

There was lots of it waiting him in the office at his old space training grounds he shares with America's six other astronauts.

Carpenter, absent from here for a month, flew in from Denver late Wednesday night with his wife, Rene, and their four children.

tal and editorial reaction came slowly.

West German newspapers printed factual accounts without comment.

The Bonn government maintained official silence on the execution today, but previously had condemned the Nazi slaughter of Jews and praised Israel for its "remarkably objective" Eichmann trial.

Random questioning of West Germans on their way to work this morning brought general approval of the execution.

"He deserved his fate," said postman Robert Muench. "I'm satisfied that this terrible Eichmann story is now over."

Josef Wendel, a young bank clerk, said, "Eichmann certainly deserved no mercy. But I cannot approve of capital punishment. Eichmann had no right to do what he did to the Jews. But do the Jews have a right to kill Eichmann?"

There is no capital punishment in West Germany under the post-war constitution.

In Argentina, the government ordered guards around the Israeli Embassy and Jewish synagogues and businesses after getting word of Eichmann's execution.

Many Argentines still are resentful that Israeli commandos kidnaped Eichmann from his Argentine hideout and spirited him out of the country to Israel for trial two years ago. Anti-Semitic incidents have increased in frequency in recent weeks.

The Soviet Union coupled the announcement of Eichmann's execution with a bitter propaganda blast at surviving Nazis it charged now run West Germany.

Rusk, Allies Due To Confer On Atlantic Alliance Splits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk is planning a trip to Europe late this month to confer with allied leaders about clearing up some of the policy splits in the Atlantic Alliance.

He is expected definitely to meet with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. He may see French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Rusk confirmed to a news conference Thursday that arrangements for a trip are being worked out. From other sources it was learned that he wants to talk to Adenauer about U.S.-Soviet discussions on a Berlin settlement and about future moves for greater Western European political unity, which the United States strongly supports.

Whether Rusk sees De Gaulle probably will be determined by progress in his conferences here with French Ambassador Herve Alphand, Rusk and Alphand met for two hours Monday and for 90 minutes Thursday on Paris-Washington policy differences. They apparently have no hope at present of ending major differences over De Gaulle's determination to give France an independent nuclear weapons force and his desire to promote a European grouping of national states with looser U.S. ties.

Rusk reiterated at his news conference that the United States is completely opposed to the De Gaulle plan for a French nuclear force. In response to a specific question he said the United States would not favor Britain's supplying nuclear weapons to France.

Rusk also challenged critics of administration foreign policy to come up with proposals for alternative lines of policy development if they really believe that the administration is following a no win course.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., has accused the government of having a "no win" policy in the cold war.

Biography Notes Goldwater May Have Good Chance in '64

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new political biography of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., pictures him today as feeling he would have a good chance at winning the Republican presidential nomination in 1964. And it suggests he might take a stab at it if the GOP's prospects look bright.

In any event Goldwater is said to believe the party's conservative wing, for which he is the chief spokesman, will hold the balance of power at the next GOP national convention.

"I am reasonably certain that the Republican presidential nominee in 1964 will have to accommodate the conservatives," Goldwater is quoted as saying in "Mr. Conservative: Barry Goldwater," published today and written by Jack Bell, Associated Press political writer.

In suggesting he might throw his hat in the ring in 1964 if he thinks he has a fighting chance, the Arizona senator cited the historical precedent that the incumbent president—President Kennedy, in this case—always has the inside track the second time around.

He says he doesn't think Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 GOP presidential candidate, or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would run in 1964 if Kennedy "looks good" at the time.

On his own chances, Goldwater says: "I think my strength would lie in the South, the Middle West, and the Rocky Mountain West. Certainly, I wouldn't have great strength in the big states like Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, and New Jersey. But I would have some in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio."

Ohio Air Guards To Return in July

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio's activated Air National Guardsmen serving in France and Germany will return to their home bases in Ohio as soon as possible after July 15, the Air Force has announced.

The Buckeye airmen involved are members of the 121st Tactical Fighter Wing, stationed at Etain Air Base in France since November, and the 123rd Air Control and Warning Squadron in Germany.

The 121st will return to Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus and the 123rd will return to Blue Ash near Cincinnati.

All are expected to be released from federal duty by Aug. 31.

Israel Reports Gestapo Chief Defiant to End

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Defiant to the end, Adolf Eichmann walked firmly to the gallows Thursday night and paid with his life for his role in Nazi Germany's systematic extermination of 6 million European Jews.

The young state of Israel hanged the former Gestapo colonel at two minutes before midnight on an improvised scaffold in a third-story storeroom of Ramleh Prison near Tel Aviv.

It was the first execution in the 14-year history of this Jewish nation which counts among its citizens thousands of relatives of Jews whom Eichmann, 56, helped speed to death in Hitler's gas chambers.

Eichmann's body was cremated quickly and the ashes scattered under the waters of the Mediterranean.

Eichmann was cool and unrepentant as this Jewish nation carried to conclusion its announced determination to record the history of the Nazi pogrom and mete out justice in the name of all Jews.

A faint smile on his face, Eichmann spurned the traditional black hood and even chided his jailers for making it difficult for him to stand on the gallows' trap door.

"My belief was correct," the former head of the Gestapo Jewish affairs section declared. "I had to obey the rules of war and my flag. I am ready."

At a command from an Israeli guard, Eichmann stepped to the trap door and lunged to his death almost in a single motion.

Death was instantaneous, prison officials said.

Eichmann was condemned to death last December by a special three-judge tribunal which found him guilty of acts of "unparalleled enormity" against the Jewish people and against humanity—the only crime subject to capital punishment in Israel.

The balding, bespectacled Hitler disciple had insisted he was only a minor cog carrying out orders from above in the Nazi campaign for "the final solution to the Jewish problem"—extermination.

But the court declared he actually relished shipping Jews to their deaths by the hundreds of thousands, saying he was motivated by "an ardent desire to blot out an entire people from the face of the earth."

Confession Claimed in Ohio Slaying

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Police say a man arrested for the killing of a Phoenix tavern operator has admitted he also fatally wounded 46-year-old Ohio woman last month.

Sgt. Earl Moore said Thursday Warren Sherrick, 32, admitted killing Mrs. Rosalie Crider near Lima, Ohio. Earlier this week, police said Sherrick gave a statement saying he killed Lewis A. Taylor, 55, formerly of St. Joseph, Mo., during a 300-bar robbery in Phoenix.

Police found a .32 caliber pistol, Taylor's wallet and Mrs. Crider's purse in an apartment rented by Sherrick and Carl William Reed, 27. Both men, formerly of Lima, are being held in the Phoenix jail.

Sgt. Moore said Sherrick had refused to discuss the Crider slaying. But during a lie detector test today, Moore said, Sherrick admitted the Ohio slaying.

Mrs. Crider was found lying along a road six miles west of Lima the morning of April 11. She died a short time later from two bullet wounds in the head.

Detective Sgt. Seymour Nealis said charges will be filed today against Sherrick in the Taylor killing.

RFK Asks Subversive Control Board To Order 10 To Register

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has petitioned the Subversive Activities Control Board to require 10 persons to register with him as members of the Communist party.

With this action Thursday the government opened another front in its campaign to unmask the party, its leaders and members.

The Supreme Court cleared the way for the Justice Department last June when it ordered the party to register with the board under provisions of the 1950 Internal Security Act as an agency of Moscow. The party appealed but the court last October refused to reconsider.

Kennedy said in his announcement that the 10 persons were elected to the party's national committee in December 1959. He identified them in separate petitions as:

William L. Patterson, 71, chairman of the party's New York District; Betty Gannett Tormey, 55, and William Albertson, 52, both of the New York party committee and board; all of Brooklyn.

Arnold Samuel Johnson, 57, national legislative director; Miriam Friedlander, 48, New York party committee member, and Louis Weinstein, 59, New York party committee and board member; all of New York City.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., has accused the government of having a "no win" policy in the cold war.

Biography Notes Goldwater May Have Good Chance in '64

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new political biography of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., pictures him today as feeling he would have a good chance at winning the Republican presidential nomination in 1964. And it suggests he might take a stab at it if the GOP's prospects look bright.

In any event Goldwater is said to believe the party's conservative wing, for which he is the chief spokesman, will hold the balance of power at the next GOP national convention.

"I am reasonably certain that the Republican presidential nominee in 1964 will have to accommodate the conservatives," Goldwater is quoted as saying in, "Mr. Conservative: Barry Goldwater," published today and written by Jack Bell, Associated Press political writer.

In suggesting he might throw his hat in the ring in 1964 if he thinks he has a fighting chance, the Arizona senator cited the historical precedent that the incumbent president—President Kennedy, in this case—always has the inside track the second time around.

He says he doesn't think Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 GOP presidential candidate, or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would run in 1964 if Kennedy "looks good" at the time.

On his own chances, Goldwater says: "I think my strength would be in the South, the Middle West, and the Rocky Mountain West. Certainly, I wouldn't have great strength in the big states like Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey. But I would have some in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio."

Ohio Air Guards To Return in July

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's activated Air National Guardsmen serving in France and Germany will return to their home bases in Ohio as soon as possible after July 15, the Air Force has announced.

The Buckeye airmen involved are members of the 121st Tactical Fighter Wing, stationed at Etna Air Base in France since November, and the 123rd Air Control and Warning Squadron in Germany.

The 121st will return to Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus and the 123rd will return to Blue Ash near Cincinnati. All are expected to be released from federal duty by Aug. 31.

Israel Reports Gestapo Chief Defiant to End

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Defiant to the end, Adolf Eichmann walked firmly to the gallows Thursday night and paid with his life for his role in Nazi Germany's systematic extermination of 6 million European Jews.

The young state of Israel hanged the former Gestapo colonel at two minutes before midnight on an improvised scaffold in a third-story storeroom of Ramleh Prison near Tel Aviv.

It was the first execution in the 14-year history of this Jewish nation which counts among its citizens thousands of relatives of Jews whom Eichmann, 56, helped speed to death in Hitler's gas chambers.

Eichmann's body was cremated quickly and the ashes scattered upon the waters of the Mediterranean.

Eichmann was cool and unrepentant as this Jewish nation carried to conclusion its announced determination to record the history of the Nazi pogrom and mete out justice in the name of all Jews.

A faint smile on his face, Eichmann spurned the traditional black hood and even chided his jailers for making it difficult for him to stand on the gallows' trap door.

"My belief was correct," the former head of the Gestapo Jewish affairs section declared. "I had to obey the rules of war and my flag. I am ready."

At a command from an Israeli guard, Eichmann stepped to the trap door and lunged to his death almost in a single motion.

Death was instantaneous, prison officials said.

Eichmann was condemned to death last December by a special three-judge tribunal which found him guilty of acts of "unparalleled enormity" against the Jewish people and against humanity—the only crime subject to capital punishment in Israel.

The balding, bespectacled Hitler disciple had insisted he was only a minor cog carrying out orders from above in the Nazi campaign for "the final solution to the Jewish problem"—extermination.

But the court declared he actually relished shipping Jews to their deaths by the hundreds of thousands, saying he was motivated by "an ardent desire to blot out an entire people from the face of the earth."

Confession Claimed in Ohio Slaying

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Police say a man arrested for the killing of a Phoenix tavern operator has admitted he also fatally wounded 46-year-old Ohio woman last month.

Sgt. Warren Sherrick, 32, admitted killing Mrs. Rosalie Crider near Lima, Ohio. Earlier this week, police said Sherrick gave a statement saying he killed Lewis A. Taylor, 55, formerly of St. Joseph, Mo., during a $300 bar robbery in Phoenix.

Police found a .32 caliber pistol, Taylor's wallet and Mrs. Crider's purse in an apartment rented by Sherrick and Carl William Reed, 27. Both men, formerly of Lima, are being held in the Phoenix jail.

Sgt. Moore said Sherrick had refused to discuss the Crider slaying. But during a lie detector test today, Moore said, Sherrick admitted the Ohio slaying.

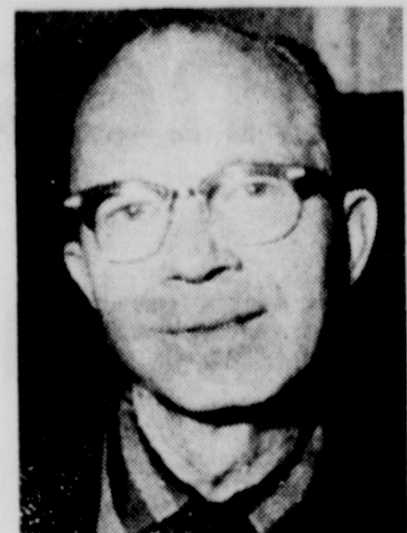

Mrs. Crider was found lying along a road six miles west of Lima the morning of April 11. She died a short time later from two bullet wounds in the head.

Detective Sgt. Seymour Nealis said charges will be filed today against Sherrick in the Taylor killing.

Mysterious Truce Continues Between Moslems, Terrorists

ALGIERS (AP)—Europeans and Moslems mixed peacefully in the streets of Algiers today as the second consecutive bloodless morning drew to a close.

The terrorist European Secret Army Organization continued its mysterious truce in an apparent effort to prove its bargaining power in any negotiations with the Moslem National Liberation Front.

Secret army leaders want to talk directly to Moslem nationalists to seek additional guarantees for Algeria's European community before the Moslem majority takes over an independent Algeria.

So far, Moslem quarters have vehemently denied any contact has been made.

The truce, which began with the Ascension holiday Thursday, gave the city a new face.

Moslem women penetrated the heart of the European city without incident. Moslem bootblacks and flower vendors, long absent, set up their stands again.

Markets were crowded by European housewives, many of whom have been feeding their families canned goods for weeks.

Europeans close to the secret army said its commandos had received orders to "cease fire" until Saturday.

One report was that the secret army would announce results of its alleged contacts with the Moslems.

Another explanation was that a new flareup of terrorism, more vicious than ever, should be expected after the truce to show that "real peace" depends on the secret army.

The truce in the heart of Algiers apparently did not affect some of the city's suburbs and Oran.

A Moslem was shot down in the beach town of Guyotville west of Algiers. In the El Biar suburb, three Europeans raided a branch bank, taking the equivalent of $3,000.

Throughout Algeria Thursday terrorism took a toll of 17 lives—a relatively light total for recent weeks. Officials said the dead included 13 Europeans, most of them in Oran.

He was a member of the First Lutheran Church in Ashville and was a retired Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad employee.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lillian Morrison; two daughters, Mrs. Elwood Morrison, Ashville and Mrs. S. L. Jones, Albany, Ga.; four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be 2:30 p. m. Monday in the Bastian Funeral Home with the Rev. W. W. Stuck officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

FBI Chief Expects Violence Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover warned Thursday the approaching vacation season is expected to bring an increase in sexual assaults and murders.

"According to established seasonal trends, forcible rape will rise approximately 16 per cent above its annual average during the next several weeks," Hoover said in his monthly message to law enforcement officials.

He said murder and aggravated assault are expected to climb 12 per cent each and a similar increase is expected in attacks on children.

He said parents should warn children to avoid secluded spots, refuse rides and reject gifts from strangers.

Bridge Bids Are Opened

Bids were opened yesterday in County Engineer Henry T. McCrady's office for replacement of the covered bridge spanning Walnut Creek near Ashville.

Only two bids were submitted for the project. The apparent low estimate was presented by a Chillicothe firm.

Bids were: The Twin Construction Co., Chillicothe, $118,903.53; and the W. J. Seidensticker Co., Columbus, $118,977.39.

McCrady indicated today that a contract for the bridge replacement will be awarded Monday during the regular session of the Board of County Commissioners.

Mrs. Tormey and Weinstock were convicted in 1953 and served prison terms of two and three years respectively, on charges of violating the Smith Act which prohibits the teaching of violent overthrow of the government.

The 10 named in the petitions have 20 days in which to reply. The board then will conduct hearings and its decision in each case will become final only after review by the courts.

The maximum penalty for failure of an individual to register—if he refuses to do so after the board orders him to and the courts uphold the board—would be five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Lima said in Oakland he had no intention of registering and that he would fight Kennedy's action through hearings of the board and in the courts. He called the 1950 Internal Security Act a "drag net law under which a great majority of Americans could be put in prison without trial or evidence."

In Seattle, Nelson, who has previously stated he would "sooner go to prison than register," said he would have no comment until he had some official notification.

Israel Moves Quickly To Hang Eichmann

The Israeli Supreme Court rejected Eichmann's appeal against clarn even death was an inadequate penalty.

An with unexpected speed, President Izhak Ben-Ziv sealed Eichmann's doom about noon Thursday, ejecting appeals for executive clemency from Eichmann, members of his family and others.

Eichmann was transferred quickly from his cell in Jerusalem, where he had been lodged for the Supreme Court decision, to Ramle Prison. There, his spiritual adviser, The Rev. William Hull, visited him in his cell.

The Canada-born Protestant clergyman reported later that Eichmann was not sad but was defiant. Eichmann, who earlier had expressed a belief in God but belonged to no church, refused to reaffirm a faith in Christ.

"I do not have time to read the Bible," Eichmann told the minister. "I have peace in my heart. I am ready to die."

Eichmann was told of the rejection of the clemency appeals—but not that he was to die that night—about 8 p.m. He asked for and received a bottle of red wine. He drank half of it.

Outside a thick fog set in. Guards turned on flood lights and police set up roadblocks to divert traffic from the prison, a former British fort, on the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem road.

Eichmann learned death was at hand only when guards came to his cell to take him the 50 yards to the gallows. He walked steadily to the execution room handcuffed to two guards. He made only one request—to stop and blow his nose.

Dressed in brown slacks and a brown shirt open at the neck, he mounted the scaffold by a single step and stood directly under the noose which was suspended over his head on a chain. His hands and ankles were bound with white cloth.

As the noose was fitted over his head, Eichmann half closed his eyes and looked downward at the floor. As the black hood was proffered, Eichmann said: "I don't need that."

Eichmann spoke his last words to a small group of officials, guards and newsmen gathered to witness the execution.

"My belief was correct," he said. "After a short while, gentlemen, we shall all meet again. So is the fate of all men. I have lived believing in God and I die believing in God."

"Long live Germany. Long live Argentina. Long live Austria. These are the countries with which I have been most closely associated and I shall not forget them. I greet my wife, my family and my friends. I had to obey the rules of war and my flag. I am ready."

Eichmann, the father of four sons, was born in Austria, served Germany and hid out after World War II in Argentina.

Eichmann's wife, Vera, was the only member of his family to see him in prison.

The government announced: "Adolf Eichmann's will includes a request that his remains be cremated."

Eichmann went to his death 2 years and 21 days after Israeli commandos captured him in Argentina and smuggled him to Israel by air, ending a world-wide search by Jewish agents that began on the smoldering ashes of the Nazi empire.

The swiftness of the execution after the rejection of the appeals surprised Israelis and many others around the world. Some leading Jews had urged that Eichmann be spared as a living reminder of Nazi horrors. Many others, however, urged death. Not one Israeli newspaper pleaded for Eichmann's life.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ever since he took office Secretary of State Dean Rusk's press conference remarks have been so calm, unexciting, generalized and obvious that some newsmen have fallen asleep during the sessions.

This was because Rusk, who works in the closest collaboration with President Kennedy, seemed to regard himself more as the navigator of the foreign policy ship than the captain.

There has never been any doubt that Kennedy is the captain. The President has made the big pronouncements.

Thursday for a change Rusk showed real irritation at Kennedy administration foreign policy critics, particularly when told Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., had accused the State Department of advocating a "no-win" rather than a "victory" policy in dealing with communism.

After citing all the problems the administration is trying to solve Rusk called on the critics to offer some alternatives, instead of just criticism, if they have alternatives.

This moment of anger, so contrary to Rusk's policy of deliberate calm, is not likely to be repeated soon. If it were, his news conferences would be a little livelier.

His generally unheated and unsensational dealings with the press have made it a little hard for newsmen to get used to after being exposed for so long to a more colorful and flamboyant predecessor, John Foster Dulles. In his almost year and a half in office Rusk has never once used such provocative statements as Dulles' "agonizing reappraisal" or "massive retaliation."

Yet, both men have had one thing in common: A feeling that they had to move around the world fast and often. But even on this part of his job Rusk used a soft-pedal even before he got it.

In January 1961, when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was questioning him before approving him, he was asked if he planned to spend most of his time in the department and let ambassadors do the work abroad.

Came the typical Rusk statement which closed no doors on whatever he might decide to do. "I do believe that the secretary has an important role in the department, but sometimes has an important role outside it," he said.

And there was this when a senator asked him what the new Kennedy administration planned to do, after it took office, about a couple of American airmen held captive by the Russians:

"I think," Rusk said, "it would be important for the new administration to make every effort possible to obtain the release of these two airmen."

(The Russians released them five days after Kennedy took office.)

When asked why Rusk has refrained from trying to make a more personal impact on the public mind, one of his aides said:

"He hopes to be judged not on any single accomplishment but on his total performance so that when it comes time for him to step out it can be said of him that he did a good job."

In short, he has insisted upon operating as a foreign policy technician. This explains why he has been in no fights with Congress—as Secretaries Dulles and Dean Acheson were—or any publicly known quarrels with Allies.

Yet, he hasn't had a quiet moment. Always there has been Russia, and Red China, in addition to Cuba, Laos, Viet Nam, Latin America, the Congo, disarmament, nuclear testing.

His time in office has left marks on him. He looks older, a little more tired. He talks with conviction, never with passion. The anger he showed Thursday was hardly more than a temporary detour from urbanity.

Today's Brides Lucky

The radiant June bride, leaving the church with the man of her choice, is probably unaware of the part ancient Roman superstition played in her wedding date.

June is the most popular month for weddings largely because the Romans considered it the most propitious season — especially around the time of the June full moon. May is considered the ideal marriage period in some European nations.

The Christian church marriage period in some European nations.

The Christian church helped in selection of May or June for marriage by frowning on weddings during Lent or other periods of fasting or penitence. Today's June bride can consider herself lucky that she is being married in the 20th century instead of several hundred years earlier. The worst she has to do is dodge rice thrown in her direction.

In earlier times, particularly among the Anglo-Saxons, the bridegroom was given a shoe by the bride's father to denote a transfer in authority over the lady. By custom the gentleman tapped or struck his wife on the head to demonstrate his mastery.

Symbols of Freedom

They're being worn everywhere at this time of year — mortarboards, that is — but how many of the wearers know about their origin?

Our department of important unimportant information reveals that basically the graduation cap is a symbol of freedom. It dates back to 15th century France when university students were given caps as tokens of their liberation from supervision.

The new wife, tossing bouquet to waiting bridesmaids, doesn't know how lucky she is. The bouquet-throwing replaces garter-snatching that sometimes proved damaging. Old French custom granted the next marriage to the lass who made off with the bride's garter. Competition for this good luck token became fierce, and brides who wished to avoid a possible mauling left a garter hanging loosely and easily available.

Gentlemen attendants in today's weddings also are somewhat better off than those of ages past. In the days when wives were captured by hostile tribes or families, the groomsman had the job of warding off indignant relatives. Today the best man has little more to do than to see that he bridegroom gets to the altar with a ring.

Newlyweds of today, if funds are available, leave after the ceremony on a honeymoon — a trip on which they can be alone if they wish. In the time when men grabbed their women by force it was sometimes necessary for the happy couple to hide out, until the bride's family stopped looking for her.

picked on this shape is lost in the shadows of antiquity. But it became known as the mortarboard, obviously, because it is like the flat boards masons use to mix their mortar.

Down through the centuries different kinds of headgear have been symbols of one thing or another. The Liberty Cap of revolutionary France, the tri-cornered hat of the American revolution, the caps of graduate nurses. Artists have their berets.

Mortarboards are now being worn even by tots who are being graduated from kindergarten and advanced to the first grade.

Red China's Uncertain Stage

By George Sokolsky

Red China is in the uncertain stage of the Revolution. Whereas Soviet Russia has been under Communist Party control since 1917, Red China has only been under such control since 1949.

Soviet Russia has won a number of victories which have convinced the Russian people of the inevitability of Russian success; Red China has, thus far, encountered principally failures. Soviet Russia became, as a result of World War II, one of the principal nations on Earth; Red China has not even been admitted into the United Nations.

As matters stand today, Red China is an outlaw, the Cain among nations. Just as the Korean War was a result of Red Chinese machinations, so are the Vietnam War, the Indonesia-Dutch War, the threat to Thailand and the Laotian War products of Red Chinese plans for expansion.

The Chienlung Line, which runs from the Ili region of Turkestan to the Bay of Bengal, is the limit of present plans for Red China's expansion. Should Red China succeed, Indian influence in Asia would be not neutralized but nullified.

Three vital factors appear in this picture: The population of Red China is on the increase. Whether it is 400,000,000 or 600,000,000 or 900,000,000.

LYNN FARNOL was invited to spend a weekend with a friend in the Scottish Highlands. The host was considered very frugal, even by his neighbors, and Farnol soon began to feel very hungry indeed.

On the second morning of his stay, as he appeared in the dining room, his host called out cheerily from the kitchen, "Lynn, my lad! And how would you like your egg for breakfast this misty morning?" Farnol answered grimly, "With another egg, if you please."

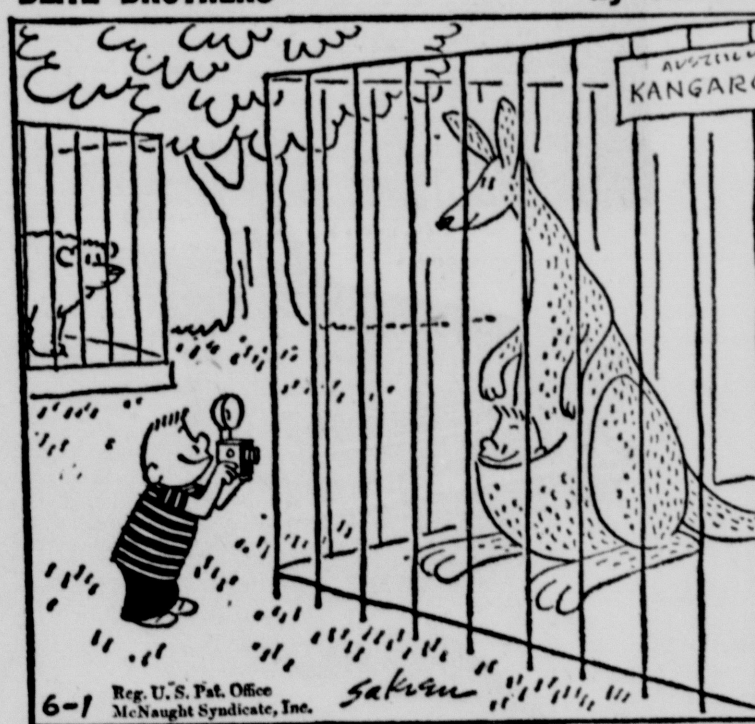

"Why," Ardie Deutsch was asked, "did you send that brand new pressure cooker to the rummage sale?" "It may look like a pressure cooker to you," explained Deutsch, "but in the hands of my wife, it's a secret weapon. Last Wednesday she shot a pot roast into outer space."

The Missoula Lumber Company has achieved noteworthy results with this offset collection letter to delinquent accounts: "It has been said that a man who squeezes a dollar never squeezes his wife. Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Should you expose your daughter to German measles on purpose?

It's a mild illness. Just a few aches, a little fever, some measles-like blotches and swollen glands behind the neck and ears. Within a few days you're well. German measles wasn't important 20 years ago. Then Australian doctors began studying children born with defective hearts and other abnormalities.

In each case, the mother had suffered German measles during those first few expectant months. (A German measles epidemic had recently swept across the area.) The doctors announced that German measles during those early months always guaranteed an abnormal baby.

They had combined brilliant research with a stupid blunder! Working backwards, they had studied only mothers of abnormal children. They forgot to include those hundreds of mothers with hale and hearty youngsters in spite of German measles.

Current polls show that 4 out of 5 times, German measles leaves no permanent damage.

Why German measles? Because it's mild. Violent, regular measles usually brings on a miscarriage. Baby can live through a few days of German measles.

But during the illness, all growth stops. When he recovers, he has to stay on a strict schedule. There's no time to go back and catch up.

All parts that were supposed to bud on those sick days never develop.

One bout of German measles usually gives life-long immunity. Occasionally lightning does strike twice. Stay away from German measles if you're expecting.

After any contact, ask your doctor about giant injections of gamma globulin that may protect you.

If your daughter catches German measles today, she won't have to worry when she's awaiting the stork.

Experts on both sides of the iron curtain agree that every young girl should be exposed to German measles on purpose. Here's one German question where no wall separates East and West!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer in individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

New List of Phobias Detailed

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Do you sometimes worry because you are too healthy?

Do you have an inferiority complex because you are too normal? Do you secretly envy a neighbor who comes down with a strange and interesting new disease?

Well, cheer up. The chances are that you suffer from a number of high-sounding ailments your neighbor never heard about—and you weren't even aware of yourself.

They are called phobias, and the medical dictionaries list at least 280 of them. New ones keep springing up all the time.

Let's look at a few examples: Do you dislike sitting in a draft because you think it may give you a cold? My boy, there's no doubt about it. You've got aerophobia.

Are you a pedestrian? It's an odds-on bet then that you suffer from gephyrophobia, or fear of crossing the street.

How about when you are driving your car? Do you try to beat the traffic lights? That's a sure sign of erethophobia, or fear of the color red.

Like most husbands, you probably sulk when your wife buys an expensive dress. That's certain evidence of atrophobia, or fear of ruin, in this case financial.

Probably you stew and fret when your golfing buddy starts off the game with a 250-yard drive. You know what's gnawing at you? Nothing but rhapsophobia, the fear of being beaten.

Does symphony music bore you? Well, deep in your subconscious mind, you are probably a victim of aulophobia, the fear of hearing flutes being played.

Naturally, as does practically everyone, you brood over the possibility of atomic disaster. This is scientifically known as ballistophobia, the fear of missiles.

Do you back away from a barking dog? You've been swept by odontophobia, or fear of animals' teeth, and perhaps also by cynophobia, the simple fear of any dog.

It is likely that you groan aloud when your wife asks you to help her rearrange the living room furniture. That's because you have been stricken with a double ailment—ataxiophobia, the fear of disorder; and ergasiophobia, the fear of work.

Are you superstitious about the number 13? The highbrows call that fear triskaidekaphobia.

You wouldn't be sensible if you didn't hate to lend money to an office deadbeat. That is aphephobia, the fear of being touched.

So don't worry about being too healthy or normal. Man, you're sick, sick, sick. You're a walking bundle of phobias.

But the chances are there's at least one phobia you don't have that's chrematophobia—the fear of having too much money.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I read a few days ago where suit had been brought against a church by one of its former members who was also a trustee of the church. For a considerable amount of money he claims is due him for labor, material and other items pertaining to the church.

I am not a member of this church and never have been, but I have attended services there frequently ever since the church was built. I believe some explanation is due the public concerning this matter.

The work was done, or most of it over the years, but with the impression and understanding by all concerned that it was being donated — the same as a number of others donated their time, efforts and money.

Pay was never mentioned, it was always donated, until a man got angry at the minister just a short time ago. Now he is using this for revenge.

"Revenge is Mine saith the Lord". This man professes to be a Christian. If God in Heaven is satisfied with works like that, then the average man on the street does not have anything to worry about his soul's salvation.

I have known this minister over a number of years — thirty to be exact and have always found him to be a good, kind and honest Christian gentleman. I am sure he or either of the trustees of the church would not refuse to pay an honest debt.

The church with all her faults is the greatest institution for good we have in America today. I believe we should try to help and encourage her instead of tearing her down.

If action like this is permissible and upheld I believe our churches have had a very dangerous way of support. Any disgruntled member could present a bill and demand payment for any contribution he may have made back over the years.

nobody knows because no adequate, scientific census has ever been taken in China. However, the expansion of the South Chinese population in all directions is a matter of record. The density of population in Kwangtung (Canton) Province has been so great that Cantonese are to be found not only in Asiatic countries but everywhere. In Asiatic countries the process of assimilation with native peoples has been constant for centuries and therefore important areas of other nations are inhabited by peoples with Chinese affiliations.

Furthermore, the culture of China is so positively ingrained throughout the East of Asia that whether the peoples are affiliated by race or politics with China they tend to look to Peking with respect.

The third factor in this situation, that is universal in the East of Asia, is the general dislike of the White Man, the foreigner who came by sea and who lorded it over the native peoples. If one will study Chinese history, there has rarely been a decade of peace. There were always wars, civil wars, rebellions and revolutions.

Chienlung (1736-1795) ruled China for 60 years, during most of which he devoted himself to conquest. It was during his reign that China expanded to its greatest extent and it is his China which it is Mao Tse-tung's ambition to restore. His first great conquest was Chinese Turkestan. In 1724, Tibet was annexed to China, but Chienlung stabilized this situation by a series of events. It was because Tibet had become a fief that Chienlung found it necessary to defeat the Gurkhas of Nepal and to invade Nepal.

Chienlung also devoted himself to the aboriginal tribes who had occupied the Yellow and Yangtze River valleys before the Chinese (or Sons of Han, as they preferred to call themselves) conquered their territories. These aborigines found homes in South China, Indo-China, the island of Hainan and border areas. Few of these aboriginal tribes ever accepted the rule of the Chinese but lived

MRS. JACK A. HOLLIS

Miss Donna Sue Dunkle, Mr. Jack Hollis Exchange Wedding Vows in Akron Temple

Miss Donna Sue Dunkle and Mr. Jack A. Hollis were united in marriage at the Akron Baptist Temple. The Rev. James D. Moore officiated at the 7:30 p. m. May 12 ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Dunkle, Akron. The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Hollis, Salisbury, N. C.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza and Chantilly lace designed with a basque bodice with a scalloped Sabrina neckline embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, and long tapering sleeves. The bouffant skirt was supported by crinoline with a redingote overskirt edged in lace applique ending in a chapel length train. Her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a crown of pearl and crystal droplets.

Her only jewelry was a diamond centered heart shaped pendant, a gift from the groom. She carried a cascade arrangement of white orchids, feathered carnation and English ivy, centered on a white ribbon.

Miss Patti-Lou Dunkle, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor with Mrs. Frances Schaffner, Des Plaines, Ill., Mrs. Mary Lohr, Magador, O., and Miss Mary Shaffer of Akron as bridesmaids. The attendants wore peacock blue silk organza dresses. They carried nosegay arrangements of pink sweetheart roses encircling white roses.

Junior attendants were Anne Hollis, Salisbury, N. C. and Tommy Lohr.

Mr. James Hollis, Salisbury, N. C., served as best man. The ushers were Mr. Max E. Dunkle, the bride's brother, Barksdale Collins, Atlanta, Ga., Jon Bogie, Waukegan, Ill., John Hocking, and Larry Taylor, Akron.

The bride's mother wore an embroidered silk sheath with matching coat and toast accessories. A corsage of cymbidium orchids was pinned to her clutch bag.

Mrs. Hollis, the bridegroom's mother, wore a periwinkle blue chiffon dress with white accessories. Her corsage was pink cymbidium orchids.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Akron Baptist Temple.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Fellowship of Love

THE SOURCE OF LOVE: THE GREAT EXAMPLE OF ONE WHO LIVED FOR OTHERS AND SOME TESTS OF TRUE LOVE

Scripture—1 John 3:11-18; 4:7-11; II John; III John.
By N. SPEER JONES
THIS WEEK we continue our study of the letters of the apostle John, who also authored the fourth Gospel and the book of Revelation. This was the "disciple whom Jesus loved," the one to whose care He committed His mother when He died.
This was the apostle who lived to be almost 100 years old, after suffering earlier as a slave on the island of Patmos, thanks to his devotion to his religion. Later in life he is thought to have lived in Ephesus.
John was the most profound thinker of all the original 12 apostles. His philosophy was of such stature that it bears the title, the "Johannine theology." The heart of this philosophy is that the actual Life of God is communicated to man, through the Commandments and our obedience to them, through the Spirit of God (considered by John to be the equivalent of belief in Jesus as God's Son), and through love.

It is this last aspect of God's communication of Life to us that concerns us here. Indeed, love is the aspect on which John himself dwells most, returning again and again to it in his writings. In his first letter, he uses the word "love" itself, as a noun and a verb, nearly 40 times.

As John says, love "is the message which you have heard from the beginning," not only since Christ's ministry, but away back in Genesis 4, when a child of the world's first family killed his own brother from lack of love (Genesis 4:1-11).
One who has no love "remains in death," and one who hates

Second 'Holy Grail' Is Goal Of Talented Norse Sculptor

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Sculptor Oskar J. W. Hansen is fashioning what he hopes will become a second Holy Grail. He wants nations to compete for the prize in the name of peace.

It is to be a communion chalice of gold and precious jewels which he plans to give to the world to promote peace.

Hansen, a native of Norway, has completed the focal heart of the chalice, an image of God carved in a 507½-carat piece of rose-colored beryl—a stone as big as a golf ball.

A New York mineralogist and a broker has appraised the carved gem at $100,000, Hansen reported.
Hansen said that to his knowledge no one else has ever portrayed the Deity in a jewel. He added that he did not think the Deity had been portrayed directly since Michelangelo painted his creation scenes in the ceiling of Rome's Sistine Chapel.

The jewel will be the node of the chalice, he said, placed low on the stem just above the base. When a communicant bows his head to take the sacrament his eyes will meet the image.
Since 1942 Hansen, now 69, has worked in a studio in his home on Pantops Mountain east of here.

The best known of his works include the massive Winged Figures of the Republic at Boulder Dam and the 13-foot figure of Liberty atop the Yorktown Victory Monument.

Hansen estimates that the chalice will take two or three years to complete. He will not bind himself to a date because it must be done between other sculpturing work.

The chalice, to be about a foot high, will have an outer shell of gold open work, an inner pure gold shell or liner, and space between containing carved jewels, Hansen said.

The image of Christ will appear in the cup itself, he said, and the cup itself will be carved with scenes from the life of Christ.

Beryl, a stone of the same family as emerald and aquamarine, is so hard only a diamond will cut it.

The image is carved in relief on an inverted triangular surface. The letters alpha and omega are at either side—the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet, symbolizing God as the beginning and end.

The eyes of the face are open or closed, according to how the stone is turned. There is a beard, but it disappears at another angle. At each turn of the stone a different expression or mood appears on the face. It may appear somber, sorrowful, understanding, thoughtful or compassionate.

Stock Market Jolt May Be Only Minor

Lack of Confidence By General Consumer Is Biggest Concern

NEW YORK (AP)—A crisis in confidence is what businessmen, stock traders, and almost everyone else fear most.

And the thing they had been fearing for several weeks seemed to be taking sudden and sickening shape Monday. Businessmen as well as stock owners breathed easier Tuesday afternoon when the market came back—whether from a return of confidence, from an opportunity to buy bargains, from a chance to make a quick buck, didn't seem to matter.

The five-month drop in stock averages from their peaks had been taken in stride by most top business executives around the country. They didn't like it but they had been expecting it.

Even the sharper rate of decline in recent weeks after the steel crisis, with its overtones of a fundamental clash between government and business over Washington's role in setting industrial policies, left many of them cautious but still optimistic about the near term outlook for business.

Executives were perhaps more calm about it in other sections of the country than in New York where daily market fluctuations, and especially rumors, seem to have a greater impact on business thinking.

Almost without exception, business leaders who have expressed opinions have said that a shakeout in the stock market, if orderly, might be a good thing in disguise, by deflating some stock prices way out of line with earning prospects.

But to this they always added a big "unless"—unless the general public lost confidence. The fear was that this might spread from selling of stocks to curtailing consumer spending.

The rush to sell stocks all day Monday and early Tuesday, with the general public, the small holders, credited with doing most of the dumping, seemed to bear out their worst fears—a crisis in confidence.

This week's fluctuations in the stock prices won't settle the question as to whether a real and lasting loss of confidence in the outlook for business in particular and the economy in general has developed.

Most observers lean strongly to the belief that the loss was largely confined to panicky amateurs—newcomers to the stock market who had thought that prices must always go up, that tomorrow they could always sell their shares, for more than they had paid for them.

Sooner or later such thinking always gets rudely deflated. A lot of market plungers lost their illusions this week.

But if it spreads no further than the market, the jolt to the economy may be only a passing one.

Actress Raps Rumormongers For Marriages Difficulties

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I knew it was going to be rough, but I didn't think it would be this rough."

This was Janet Leigh talking about the bustup of her marriage to Tony Curtis. What she had to say gives testimony to the difficulty of making marriage work in Hollywood and especially of healing one that has suffered a break.

"It should be a matter between Tony and me," she commented, "but it isn't. Everybody wants to put in their two cents. Everybody has a different story. I'm astounded by some of the things I hear about us."

"I can't seem to convince anyone that we separated for the reasons we gave at the time."

When Curtis moved out of the family home March 17, the pair announced they had been having problems for some time and hoped to work them out. They declared no other parties were involved.

The rumor factory took no heed.

Level Budget Expected by Treasury Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is standing by its assumption the budget will be balanced next year, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon told the House Ways and Means Committee Thursday.

Dillon nevertheless urged the committee to approve an $8 billion rise for the national debt ceiling. The limit now is $300 billion, equal to the record high of World War II.

Dillon conceded in his testimony that expansion of the economy did not measure up to our expectations. But he said the "short-fall was not so great that it cannot be made up in the months ahead."

He added that encouraging April economic statistics, including records for employment, output and income, make it premature to conclude that the economic goals envisaged by the administration will not be attained.

President Kennedy has predicted a balanced budget for the year beginning July 1 on the basis of increased government receipts from an expanding economy.

Dillon renewed the administration prediction that the current year will end with a $7-billion red ink figure.

Budget Director David E. Bell was on deck to back up Dillon's presentation.

The Fellowship of Love

THE SOURCE OF LOVE: THE GREAT EXAMPLE OF
ONE WHO LIVED FOR OTHERS AND SOME TESTS OF TRUE LOVE

Scripture—I John 3:11-18; 4:7-11; II John; III John.

By N. SPEER JONES

THIS WEEK we continue our study of the letters of the apostle John, who also authored the fourth Gospel and the book of Revelation. This was the "disciple whom Jesus loved," the one to whose care He committed His mother when He died.

This was the apostle who lived to be almost 100 years old, after suffering earlier as a slave on the island of Patmos, thanks to his devotion to his religion. Later in life he is thought to have lived in Ephesus.

John was the most profound thinker of all the original 12 apostles. His philosophy was of such stature that it bears the title, the "Johannine theology." The heart of this philosophy is that the actual Life of God is communicated to man, through the Commandments and our obedience to them, through the Spirit of God (considered by John to be the equivalent of belief in Jesus as God's Son), and through love.

It is this last aspect of God's communication of Life to us that concerns us here. Indeed, love is the aspect on which John himself dwells most, returning again and again to it in his writings. In his first letter, he uses the word "love" itself, as a noun and a verb, nearly 40 times.

As John says, love "is the message which you have heard from the beginning," not only since Christ's ministry, but away back in Genesis 4, when a child of the world's first family killed his own brother from lack of love (Genesis 4:1-8).

One who has no love "remains in death," and one who hates

John also reminds us that the proof of love is in the doing, not the saying. "Let us not love in word, neither with the tongue; but in deed and truth" (I John 3:18).

Second 'Holy Grail' Is Goal Of Talented Norse Sculptor

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Sculptor Oskar J. W. Hansen is fashioning what he hopes will become a second Holy Grail. He wants nations to compete for the prize in the name of peace.

It is to be a communion chalice of gold and precious jewels which he plans to give to the world to promote peace.

Hansen, a native of Norway, has completed the focal heart of the chalice, an image of God carved in a 507½-carat piece of rose-colored beryl—a stone as big as a golf ball.

A New York mineralogist and gem broker has appraised the carved gem at $100,000, Hansen reported.

Hansen said that to his knowledge no one else has ever portrayed the Deity in a jewel. He added that he did not think the Deity had been portrayed directly since Michelangelo painted his creation scenes in the ceiling of Rome's Sistine Chapel.

The jewel will be the node of the chalice, he said, placed low on the stem just above the base. When a communicant bows his head to take the sacrament his eyes will meet the image.

Since 1942 Hansen, now 69, has worked in a studio in his home on Pantops Mountain east of here.

The best known of his works include the massive Winged Figures of the Republic at Boulder Dam and the 13-foot figure of Liberty atop the Yorktown Victory Monument.

Hansen estimates that the chalice will take two or three years to complete. He will not bind himself to a date because it must be done between other sculpturing work.

The chalice, to be about a foot high, will have an outer shell of gold open work, an inner pure gold shell or liner, and space between containing carved jewels.

Hansen said the image of Christ will appear in the cup itself, he said, and the cup itself will be carved with scenes from the life of Christ.

Beryl, a stone of the same family as emerald and aquamarine, is so hard only a diamond will cut it.

The image is carved in relief on an inverted triangular surface. The letters alpha and omega are at either side—the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet, symbolizing God as the beginning and end.

The eyes of the face are open or closed, according to how the stone is turned. There is a beard, but it disappears at another angle.

At each turn of the stone a different expression or mood appears on the face. It may appear somber, sorrowful, understanding, thoughtful or compassionate.

Stock Market Jolt May Be Only Minor

Lack of Confidence By General Consumer Is Biggest Concern

NEW YORK (AP)—A crisis in confidence is what businessmen, stock traders, and almost everyone else fear most.

And the thing they had been fearing for several weeks seemed to be taking sudden and sickening shape Monday. Businessmen as well as stock owners breathed easier Tuesday afternoon when the market came back—whether from a return of confidence, from an opportunity to buy bargains, from a chance to make a quick buck, didn't seem to matter.

The five-month drop in stock averages from their peaks had been taken in stride by most top business executives around the country. They didn't like it but they had been expecting it.

Even the sharper rate of decline in recent weeks after the steel crisis, with its overtones of a fundamental clash between government and business over Washington's role in setting industrial policies, left many of them cautious but still optimistic about the near term outlook for business.

Executives were perhaps more calm about it in other sections of the country than in New York where daily market fluctuations, and especially rumors, seem to have a greater impact on business thinking.

Almost without exception, business leaders who have expressed opinions have said that a shakeout in the stock market, if orderly, might be a good thing in disguise, by deflating some stock prices way out of line with earning prospects.

But to this they always added a big "unless"—unless the general public loss of confidence. The fear was that this might spread from selling of stocks to curtailing consumer spending.

The rush to sell stocks all day Monday and early Tuesday, with the general public, the small holders, credited with doing most of the dumping, seemed to bear out their worst fears—a crisis in confidence.

This week's fluctuations in the stock prices won't settle the question as to whether a real and lasting loss of confidence in the outlook for business in particular and the economy in general has developed.

Most observers lean strongly to the belief that the loss was largely confined to panicky amateurs—newcomers to the stock market who had thought that prices must always go up, that tomorrow they could always sell their shares, no matter how highly priced, for more than they had paid for them.

Sooner or later such thinking always gets rudely deflated. A lot of market plungers lost their illusions this week.

But if it spreads no further than the market, the jolt to the economy may be only a passing one.

SOAP BOX CHAMP TO ASTRONAUT—Even as a lad of 13, Air Force Capt. Ted Twining (right), 34, of Colorado Springs, Colo., knew he was going places. He is shown at the wheel of his home-made soap box racer in which he won the local derby in Des Plaines, Ill. At that time he was living in La Grange, Ill. He is one of the eight test pilots selected for special training in the nation's second group of astronauts, and may be one of the first men to land on the Moon.

Actress Raps Rumormongers For Marriages Difficulties

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I knew it was going to be rough, but I didn't think it would be this rough."

This was Janet Leigh talking about the bustup of her marriage to Tony Curtis. What she had to say gives testimony to the difficulty of making marriage work in Hollywood and especially of healing one that has suffered a break.

"It should be a matter between Tony and me," she commented, "but it isn't. Everybody wants to put in their two cents. Everybody has a different story. I'm astounded by some of the things I hear about us."

"I can't seem to convince anyone that we separated for the reasons we gave at the time."

When Curtis moved out of the family home March 17, the pair announced they had been having problems for some time and hoped to work them out. They declared no other parties were involved.

The rumor factory took no heed.

Level Budget Expected by Treasury Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is standing by its assumption the budget will be balanced next year. Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon told the House Ways and Means Committee Thursday.

Dillon nevertheless urged the committee to approve an $8-billion rise for the national debt ceiling. The limit now is $300 billion, equal to the record high of World War II.

Dillon conceded in his testimony that expansion of the economy did not measure up to our expectations. But he said the "shortfall" was not so great that it cannot be made up in the months ahead."

He added that encouraging April economic statistics, including records for employment, output and income, make it premature to conclude that the economic goals envisaged by the administration will not be attained.

President Kennedy has predicted a balanced budget for the year beginning July 1 on the basis of increased government receipts from an expanding economy.

Dillon renewed the administration prediction that the current year will end with a $7-billion red ink figure.

Budget Director David E. Bell was on deck to back up Dillon's presentation.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television, through all its short existence, has been feared for its ability to consume talent. The viewing public is feared for its fickle tastes. It finds a performer, can't get enough of him for a time—and suddenly turns stonily away.

Next season, a number of favorites will be attempting returns to favor and one of the most interesting spectator sports of the fall will be watching the way they make out.

Lucille Ball will be back after a long absence with a new situation comedy, Jackie Gleason comes in with a new series of Saturday night variety hours. Sid Caesar has been signed for a series of shows. Roy Rogers and Dale Evans will try their luck with weekly variety. Jack Paar will be transformed from a late night phenomenon into a weekly variety show host.

A big sword will hover over all of them. Will they make it back to success?

In the case of Lucille Ball, the chances look good—if she returns in a funny, bright show. Her old "I Love Lucy" series was still an extremely popular program and Lucy herself was a hot theatrical property. Besides, she and Desi Arnaz decided to terminate the series. They weren't lodged by small audiences.

Jackie Gleason's chances are more debatable. His old variety hour turned into "The Honey-mooners" series when the audience of several seasons ago was growing chilly. Then he tried an unsuccessful comeback. This failed. Finally, this season, he was a party to a short-lived little disaster that started as a game show and wound up as conversation hour.

Sid Caesar was the nation's toast in the old "Your Show of Shows" days with Imogene Coca. Attempts to revive this show failed, and nothing much has happened to Caesar over the recent years.

Jack Paar quit when he was still far ahead, but there's a question, of course, whether the public will still embrace him when he returns with an entirely different type of program.

ABC, rather wisely, has scheduled Roy and Dale's musical program at an early hour Saturday night—after all, they always had a big audience of children for their horse opera.

The list of entertainers who have had a hard time finding the right road back is long, and starts with Milton Berle, who is still looking. Steve Allen's try at another variety hour was an early casualty of this season. George Gobel hasn't had his own show for several seasons now.

Recommended weekend viewing:

Sunday: "The Roman Kid," CBS, 9:30 p.m.—based on a Paul Gallico story, with Gene Barry; "D-Day," NBC, 1011—Allied and German film of the European invasion 18 years ago next week.

FB Council 19 Holds May Meet

Farm Bureau Council No. 16 discussed the topic, knowing your social security, at the May meeting held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wilson.

The group voiced the opinion that social security taxes should not be increased to pay medical costs for any portion of the population. It was decided that the need for medical insurance should be met by expanding existing private insurance programs without federal aid.

The next meeting will be a reunion at Lake White on June 24. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

With a little more than a month to go in the present fiscal year, motor vehicle and sales tax collections in Pickaway County were less than collections for a similar period last year.

A total of $209,794.48 in tax monies has been collected since July 1, 1961, while $237,017 was collected for the same period last year.

Motor vehicle collections for the year are $141,612.40 — $7,998.30 less than was collected a year ago.

Cincinnati Woman, 28, Held in Fatal Shooting

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police held Mrs. Market Thomas, 28, today for questioning about the fatal shooting of Oliver Thomas, 39. Officers said Mrs. Thomas told them she shot the man with a .38 caliber revolver after he kicked her in the face and stomach during a fight Thursday night.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Deer herds seem to be increasing in Western New York. Motorists along main highways in Erie and Genesee Counties within 25 miles of Buffalo have reported counting herds of 20 to 100 deer.

Dear Abby: Forget Your Bankbook!

DEAR ABBY: I have had so much "advice" that I am dizzy. My husband died three years ago and left me a nice business. All my friends are afraid some man is going to marry me for my money. Every time a man shows an interest in me, someone tells me to watch out because he is after my money. I am getting tired of hearing it. You would think I had nothing else to offer. I am lonesome, but I don't have to buy a husband yet. How can I tell for sure if a man is interested in me or my money?

DEAR NOT BAD: Tell him you are broke.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think I am dumb but I am in love with a girl who lives in another city and I want to write her a letter asking her to marry me. I am no good at writing letters, Abby. I call her every Sunday instead of writing. Please write a letter I can copy and send to her. And make it so good she can't turn me down.

DEAR DICK: When it comes to this kind of a letter, you will have to do it yourself. No matter how poor you think you are at writing letters, she'll think this one is the most beautiful letter she's ever received. (If she loves you, that is. If she doesn't, my flowery prose won't help.)

DEAR ABBY: A lady we know was recently discharged from a T.B. sanitarium and, frankly, we are not quite sure how close to get to her. She visited my home yesterday and after she left I sterilized everything she touched. Now I am worried about my children catching T.B. because she hugged them. Is there any danger?

DEAR WORRIED: A "T.B. patient is discharged only when he is 'negative.' You are safer by far in the company of ex-"T.B.s" than with those who have never been tested for it. An ex-T.B. patient KNOWS he is negative of infectious germs. Unless one has periodic tests he can never be positive that he is negative.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television, through all its short existence, has been feared for its ability to consume talent. The viewing public is feared for its fickle tastes. It finds a performer, can't get enough of him for a time—and suddenly turns stonily away.

Next season, a number of favorites will be attempting returns to favor and one of the most interesting spectator sports of the fall will be watching the way they make out.

Lucille Ball will be back after a long absence with a new situation comedy, Jackie Gleason comes in with a new series of Saturday night variety hours. Sid Caesar has been signed for a series of shows. Roy Rogers and Dale Evans will try their luck with weekly variety. Jack Paar will be transformed from a late night

Colleges in Ohio Report Vacancies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges reports that colleges still have openings for qualified men and women for the autumn term.

Foundation members reporting vacancies for men include Ashland, Baldwin-Wallace, Bluffton, Capital, Dayton, Defiance, Findlay, Heidelberg, Marietta, Mount Union, Muskingum, Ohio Northern, Ohio Wesleyan, Otterbein, Steubenville and Wilmington.

Those with vacancies for women include Baldwin-Wallace, Bluffton, Capital, Defiance, Findlay, Ohio Northern, Otterbein, Steubenville, Western and Wilmington.

Graduate Students Rap OSU President

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Graduate and professional students at Ohio State University have expressed support for an insurgent faculty group that opposed campus speaker policies of President Novice G. Fawcett.

The statement, appearing in a campus publication and signed by 594 persons, said in part "we do not believe President Fawcett acted in the best interest of the university" in cancelling the appearance last month of three controversial speakers.

The majority of those signing the statement were research assistants, graduate assistants.

Fire Bug Suspected In Columbus Blazes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A fire bug may be responsible for several blazes here, including one that damaged the fine arts building at Ohio State University Wednesday night, officials say. The fires, including two in downtown Columbus that caused $30,000 damage, originated in trash near the buildings. The OSU blaze, quickly spotted by students, caused $150 damage.

Honor Pupils Listed for Final Period

phenomenon into a weekly variety show host.

A big sword will hover over all of them. Will they make it back to success?

In the case of Lucille Ball, the chances look good—if she returns in a funny, bright show. Her old "I Love Lucy" series was still an extremely popular program and Lucy herself was a hot theatrical property. Besides, she and Desi Arnaz decided to terminate the series. They weren't dislodged by small audiences.

Jackie Gleason's chances are more debatable. His old variety hour turned into "The Honey-mooners" series when the audience of several seasons ago was growing chilly. Then he tried an unsuccessful comeback. This failed. Finally, this season, he was a party to a short-lived little disaster that started as a game-show and wound up as conversation hour.

Sid Caesar was the nation's toast in the old "Your Show of Shows" days with Imogene Coca. Attempts to revive this show failed, and nothing much has happened to Caesar over the recent years.

Jack Paar quit when he was still far ahead, but there's a question, of course, whether the public will still embrace him when he returns with an entirely different type of program.

ABC, rather wisely, has scheduled Roy and Dale's musical program at an early hour Saturday night—after all, they always had a big audience of children for their horse opera.

The list of entertainers who have had a hard time finding the right road back is long, and starts with Milton Berle, who is still looking. Steve Allen's try at another variety hour was an early casualty of this season. George Gobel hasn't had his own show for several seasons now.

Recommended weekend viewing: Tonight: Dinah Shore Show, NBC, 9:30-10:30 (Eastern Standard Time)—program of country-style music.

Sunday: "The Roman Kid," CBS, 9:30 p.m.—based on a Paul Gallico story, with Gene Barry; "D-Day," NBC, 10:11—Allied and German film of the European invasion 18 years ago next week.

FB Council 19 Holds May Meet

Farm Bureau Council No. 16 discussed the topic, knowing your social security, at the May meeting held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wilson.

The group voiced the opinion that social security taxes should not be increased to pay medical costs for any portion of the population. It was decided that the need for medical insurance should be met by expanding existing private insurance programs without federal aid.

The next meeting will be a reunion at Lake White on June 24. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Race Track Builder Loses Appeals Case

CINCINNATI (AP)—A $117,743 judgment against the prime contractor for construction of the La-tonia (Ky.) Race Track near here was affirmed Thursday by the U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit.

The judgment had been returned by U.S. District Judge John H. Druffel of Cincinnati for the Thomas J. Dyer Co. against the Bishop International Engineering Co. and its bonding company, the General Insurance Company of America.

The Bishop firm was hired by the Kentucky Jockey Club to build the track and the Dyer concern was a sub-contractor.

The Bishop firm claimed it did not owe Dyer any more money until it was paid in full by the Jockey Club which now is in bankruptcy reorganization. The court of appeals upheld Judge Druffel's ruling that the Dyer firm, represented by Thomas Clark, was entitled to payment for its work even though the bankruptcy case exists.

Indians Chalk 4-3 Decision Over Orioles

DETROIT (AP)—The Cleveland Indians wound up the merry month of May on the same winning touch they started it. It may be a long hot summer for the rest of the American League if the front-running Tribe continues at the same pace in June.

Cleveland spotted Baltimore three runs Thursday night, then stormed back and beat the Orioles with a four-run outburst in the sixth inning for a 4-3 decision at Baltimore. The victory was the Indians' 17th in 28 games during May.

Cleveland held a one-game lead over New York as it opened a three-game series with Detroit here tonight.

A lucky double by Al Luplow, a solid triple by Tito Francona and Chuck Essegian's sacrifice fly were the key factors in the Tribe's four-run rally.

The Indians survived an eighth inning threat by the Orioles, who loaded the bases with two out and chased starter and winner Jim (Mudcat) Grant (3-0).

The Tribe did all their scoring in the sixth.

Scioto Downs Opens 86-Night Race Card; I'm It Favored

I'm It, the four-year-old pacing daughter of Rodney, owned by Mrs. George Van Camp, Circleville, is the pre-race favorite to win the $3,500 Scioto Downs Inaugural Pace, feature event of the nine race card that kicks off the 86 night season at the plush Columbus five-eighths mile track tonight.

Area persons attending the annual Press Party at Scioto Downs last night included John Fissell, Col. Ned Groom, Steve Jones, Paul Smallwood and Russ Gregg. Fissell is employed at Scioto as a patrol judge and Gregg as a paddock judge during the race season.

Trained and driven by Jack Betts, the powerful bay mare took a record of 1:59.4 in a time trial as a two-year-old, and has shown signs of returning to that peak just recently with a victory in 2:00.2 at Lexington, Kentucky.

Last year the fast filly set a new season mark for three-year-olds fillies with a record of 2:02.2 at Scioto Downs.

Offering the top opposition could be any one of the remaining seven starters, but recent past performance gives the second choice to Frisco Hal, aged son of Hal Senator from the Bobby Alizer stable, owned by W.J. & R.S. Peters of Barnsville, Frisco Hal who earned his record last year at Scioto Downs of 2:03.4, has won his last two starts at Northfield Park.

Third choice goes to a fleet-footed pacing mare owned by Mc-

Kinley Kirk of Washington C.H., and the Vallery Bros. of Waverly, Miss Delightful, a bay daughter of Adios with a 2:03.1 over a half mile track. Another Adios product, Senior Adios, owned by V.T. Scroggin of Hollywood, Calif., has to be figured in the pre-race considerations. Driven by Bill Heerman, the huge bay gelding won by a nose over the Popular Elroy Clay in the rain this year at Lebanon Raceway in 2:09.

Other outstanding entries in the Inaugural Pace include Diamond Saw with a record of 2:0s from Chaffee, N.Y., Flashy Plaid owned and driven by Don Cahill of Ottawa, Michael Mite, the chestnut gelding owned by Clark West of Canton with a record of 2:03.3, and Mr. Chief Forbes driven by "Skeeter" Brown.

The co-feature tonight will pit eight B-2 pacers together in the seventh race for a purse of $1,000, with Little Hostess from the Kirk and Vallery stable as the early pre-race choice. Trained by the veteran McKinley Kirk, the four-year-old daughter of Victory Song, has a record of 2:03. Top competition figures to come from Mr. Leo from the Jan MacPherson stable with a win this year in 2:05.2 at Lebanon. The veteran Forrest Short will take the third choice to the post in Betty, Rock, owned by the Cartnal Bros. of Newark. Betty Rock took her record last year at Scioto in 2:04. Erv Samples will be right there with his Indian Volo.

All in all, the nine race card shapes up as a top flight program to kick off the 1962 night harness racing season at Scioto Downs.

4 State Golf Crowns Slated To Be Claimed during June

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here it is June—the month of roses, and brides, and golf.

The divot-diggers are in for a big time, with four state title tournaments scheduled.

Early entrants range in age from 10-year-old Gary Hager of Lewis of Marion. Gary is entered in the Mid-American Junior Match Play Tourney June 18-22, sponsored by the Mansfield News Journal. Lewis will play in the Ohio Golf Association's senior championship June 14-15 at the Scioto Country Club here.

Here's a quick look at what's what on the fairways:

June 14-15: The state seniors championship, for players 55 and over, at Scioto Country Club, Columbus. John Jacob of Canton is defending champion, having won here in 1960. The 1961 event at Dayton Miami Valley was washed away by heavy rains, giving Jacob a two-year reign. Runner-up J. C. Watson of Steubenville and Jacobs are among the 80 early entrants, and the list closes June 8.

June 18-22: The fourth annual Mid-American Junior Tournament at Mansfield's Possum Run course, one of the few match play events in the country for youngsters. The current entry is 161 boys from 53 cities in Ohio, Florida and Maryland—but 200 are expected by the June 4 shut-off date. Dave Oswalt of Mansfield, winner of two of the first three, is too old for this one—he's an Ohio University student—but plenty of talent will be on hand. Among the hot-shots is Jim Nordstrom of Ashland, the state 15-and-under junior champion who led Ashland to the state high school team title last Saturday.

June 19-20: The OGA's pre-senior championship, for players 40 to 54 years old, at Springfield Country Club. Tom Jones Jr. of Youngstown has topped the pre-senior meet the last two years and will be back for another try. This one is a two-day 36-hole medal play race. Entries close June 11.

Fight To Gross $5 Million

Patterson-Liston Go Booked for Sept. 25

CHICAGO (AP)—Promoters of the Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston heavyweight championship fight in Chicago Sept. 25 predict it will bring in gross revenues of more than $5 million.

The fight will be staged in Comiskey Park which has 46,500 permanent seats, plus 10,500 temporary seats that can be added. Tickets will range from $100 down to $10, all on a reserved basis, but the biggest slice—an estimated $4 million—will come from closed circuit television shown in theaters across the country with Chicago blacked out.

The estimate on gross revenue—the money received before expenses—was made by Al Bolan, vice president of Championship Sports Inc., the promotion syndicate handling the fight.

Champion Patterson will receive 45 per cent of the live gate and 55 per cent of the ancillary rights including radio and television charges. Liston will receive 12½ per cent of the live gate and ancillary rights with a $200,000 guarantee. Championship Sports will receive the remainder.

The two fighters will come to Chicago in two or three weeks for formal contract signing. Major details of the bout were settled Thursday and approved quickly by the Illinois Athletic Commission.

Chicago was selected for the bout after the New York State Athletic Commission refused to grant Liston a license to fight in New York because he had some brushes with the law.

Rathburn Accepts OSU Scholarship

Tom Rathburn, mainstay of the Ashville basketball team for the past four years, has accepted a full athletic scholarship at Ohio State University, it was announced today by Russ Gregg, Bronco coach.

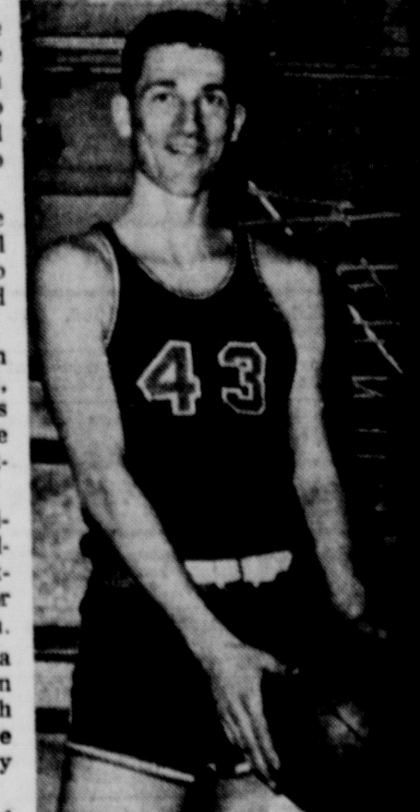

The scholarship was one of three granted to freshmen basketball players at OSU, according to Gregg. It will include room and board, tuition and books.

Rathburn, an All-County and an All-Darby Valley League selection, for three consecutive years was named to the second five of the Class A All-Ohio basketball selections.

The Bob Bowsher Trophy, traditionally given to the best all-around basketball player in Pickaway County was another honor bestowed on him the past season.

Rathburn plans to pursue a business course, specializing in accounting at Ohio State. In high school he maintained a B average while taking college preparatory courses.

He was active in church and school activities in the Ashville community.

Pickaway Area Fish, Game Revenue Listed

Bob Wolfe, hunting and fishing license agent for Pickaway County, announced today that a total of $15,298 has been collected here for 1961 hunting and fishing licenses.

Of this amount, $8,594 was paid out for hunting licenses and $6,704 for fishing.

Statewide receipts from hunting and fishing licenses and permits for the present fiscal year total more than $2½ million, according to State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson.

It was stated that since July 1, 1961, persons fishing in Ohio waters have paid a total of $1,337,797 for licenses and permits. This represents an increase of $103,358 or about 8 per cent over the previous year.

Hunters, it was reported, have paid $1,295,327 to the State. This figure is down $251,932 or about 16 per cent from a year ago. Included in this total are receipts from deer and duck hunting licenses; game propagation and pheasant reserve licenses; and fur buyers', dog training ground, and scientific collection permits.

Ferguson stated that the hunting and fishing receipts combined are down about 5½ per cent from the total recorded at this time a year ago.

Synthetic Fiber In Carpeting Now Drycleaned

There have been many changes in carpets such as synthetic or man-made fibers of nylon, rayon, Acrilan, viscose, Dynel and Caprolan — in new, light colors and beautiful textures. Until recently, there was no new method of cleaning modern wall-to-wall carpet.

Now at last a DRY-CLEANER has been perfected, and also an entirely different machine for cleaning wall-to-wall carpets. Known as the Host Process, it loosens the dirt and actually removes it, reviving the original color and texture. It re-tards re-soiling and reconditions carpet fibers. Best of all, no wetting — you can use your rooms immediately — no more musty odors, rust spots or stains. Only $9.95 gives you enough compound to do 900 sq. ft. of carpet and includes machine rental. Call GR 4-2206. Porter's Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co.

Indians Chalk 4-3 Decision Over Orioles

DETROIT (AP)—The Cleveland Indians won up the merry month of May on the same winning touch they started it. It may be a long hot summer for the rest of the American League if the front-running Tribe continues at the same pace in June.

Cleveland spotted Baltimore three runs Thursday night, then stormed back and beat the Orioles with a four-run outburst in the sixth inning for a 4-3 decision at Baltimore. The victory was the Indians' 17th in 28 games during May.

Cleveland held a one-game lead over New York as it opened a three-game series with Detroit here tonight.

A lucky double by Al Luplow, a solid triple by Tito Francona and Chuck Essegian's sacrifice fly were the key factors in the Tribe's four-run rally.

The Indians survived an eighth inning threat by the Orioles, who loaded the bases with two out and chased starter and winner Jim (Mudcat) Grant (3-0).

The Tribe did all their scoring in the sixth.

Scioto Downs Opens 86-Night Race Card; I'm It Favored

I'm It, the four-year-old pacing daughter of Rodney, owned by Mrs. George Van Camp, Circleville, is the pre-race favorite to win the $3,500 Scioto Downs Inaugural Pace, feature event of the nine race card that kicks off the 86 night season at the plush Columbus five-eighths mile track tonight.

Area persons attending the annual Press Party at Scioto Downs last night included John Fissell, Col. Ned Groom, Steve Jones, Paul Smallwood and Russ Gregg. Fissell is employed at Scioto as a patrol judge and Gregg as a paddock judge during the race season.

Trained and driven by Jack Betts, the powerful bay mare took a record of 1:59.4 in a time trial as a two-year-old, and has shown signs of returning to that peak just recently with a victory in 2:00.2 at Lexington, Kentucky. Last year the fast filly set a new season mark for three-year-old fillies with a record of 2:02.2 at Scioto Downs.

Offering the top opposition could be any one of the remaining seven starters, but recent past performance gives the second choice to Frisco Hal, aged son of Hal Senator from the Bobby Altizer stable, owned by W.J. & R.S. Petal. Frisco Hal won his last race at Scioto Downs of 2:03.4, has won his last two starts at Northfield Park. Third choice goes to a fleet-footed pacing mare owned by Mc-

Kinley Kirk of Washington C.H., and the Valley Bros. of Waverly, Miss Delightful, a bay daughter of Adios with a 2:03.1 over a half mile track. Another Adios product, Senior Adios, owned by V.T. Scroggin of Hollywood, Calif., has to be figured in the pre-race considerations. Driven by Bill Herman, the huge bay gelding won by a nose over the Popular Ellroy Clay in the rain this year at Lebanon Raceway in 2:09.

Other outstanding entries in the Inaugural Pace include Diamond Saw with a record of 2:0s from Chaffee, N.Y., Flashy Plaid owned and driven by Don Cahill of Ottawa, Michael Mite, the chestnut gelding owned by Clark Wise of Canton with a record of 2:03.3, and Mr. Chief Forbes driven by "Skeeter" Brown.

The co-feature tonight will pit eight B-2 pacers together in the seventh race for a purse of $1,000, with Little Hostess from the Kirk and Valley stable as the early pre-race choice. Trained by the veteran McKinley Kirk, the four-year-old daughter of Victory Song, has a record of 2:03. Top competition figures to come from Mr. Leo from the Jan MacPherson stable with a win this year in 2:05.2 at Lebanon. The veteran Forrest Short will take the third choice to the post in Betty, Rock, owned by the Cartnal Bros. of Newark. Betty Rock took her record last year at Scioto in 2:04. Erv Samples will be right there with his Indian Volo.

All in all, the nine race card shapes up as a top flight program to kick off the 1962 night harness racing season at Scioto Downs.

4 State Golf Crowns Slated To Be Claimed during June

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here it is June—the month of roses, and brides, and golf.

The divot-diggers are in for a big time, with four state title tournaments scheduled.

Early entrants range in age from 10-year-old Gary Hager of Lewis of Marion. Gary is entered in the Mid-American Junior in the Mid-American Junior in the Match Play Tourney June 18-22, sponsored by the Mansfield News Journal. Lewis will play in the Ohio Golf Association's senior championship June 14-15 at the Scioto Country Club here.

Here's a quick look at what's what on the fairways:

June 14-15: The state seniors championship, for players 55 and over, at Scioto Country Club, Columbus. John Jacob of Canton is defending champion, having won here in 1960. The 1961 event at Dayton Miami Valley was washed away by heavy rains, giving Jacob a two-year reign. Runnerup J. C. Watson of Steubenville and Jacobs are among the 80 early entrants, and the list closes June 8.

June 18-22: The fourth annual Mid-American Junior Tournament at Mansfield's Possum Run course, one of the few match play events in the country for youngsters. The current entry is 161 boys from 33 cities in Ohio, Florida and Maryland—but 200 are expected by the June 4 shutoff date. Dave Oswalt of Mansfield, the winner of the first three, is too old for this one—he's an Ohio University student—but plenty of talent will be on hand. Among the hot-shots is Jim Nordstrom of Ashland, the state 15-and-under junior champion who led Ashland to the state high school team title last Saturday.

June 20-21: The OGA's pre-senior championship, for players 40 to 54 years old, at Springfield Country Club. Tom Jones Jr. of Youngstown has copped the pre-senior meet the last two years and will be back for another try. This one is a two-day 36-hole medal play race. Entries close June 11.

June 26-27: The OGA's 36-hole medal play junior championship at Cleveland's Canterbury Club.

Fight To Gross $5 Million

Patterson-Liston Go Booked for Sept. 25

CHICAGO (AP)—Promoters of the Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston heavyweight championship fight in Chicago Sept. 25 predict it will bring in gross revenues of more than $5 million.

The fight will be staged in Comiskey Park which has 46,500 permanent seats, plus 10,500 temporary seats that can be added. Tickets will range from $100 down to $10, all on a reserved basis, but the biggest slice—an estimated $4 million—will come from closed circuit television shown in theaters across the country with Chicago blacked out.

The estimate on gross revenue—the money received before expenses—was made by Al Bolan, vice president of Championship Sports Inc., the promotion syndicate handling the fight.

Champion Patterson will receive 45 per cent of the live gate and 55 per cent of the ancillary rights including radio and television charges. Liston will receive 12 1/2 per cent of the live gate and ancillary rights with a $200,000 guarantee. Championship Sports will receive the remainder.

The two fighters will come to Chicago in two or three weeks for formal contract signing. Major details of the bout were settled Thursday and approved quickly by the Illinois Athletic Commission.

Chicago was selected for the bout after the New York State Athletic Commission refused to grant Liston a license to fight in New York because he had some brushes with the law.

Rathburn Accepts OSU Scholarship

Tom Rathburn, mainstay of the Ashville basketball team for the past four years, has accepted a full athletic scholarship at Ohio State University. It was announced today by Russ Gregg, Bronco coach.

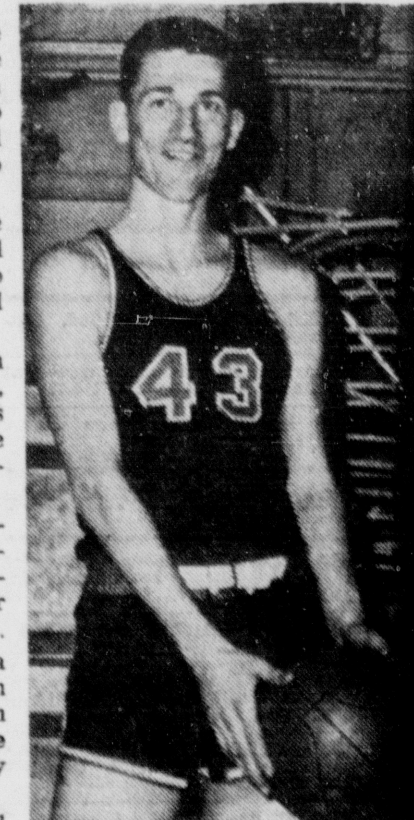

The scholarship was one of three granted to freshmen basketball players at OSU, according to Gregg. It will include room and board, tuition and books.

Rathburn, an All-County and an All-Darby Valley League selection, for three consecutive years was named to the second five of the Class A All-Ohio basketball selections.

The Bob Bowsher Trophy, traditionally given to the best all-around basketball player in Pickaway County was another honor bestowed on him the past season.

Rathburn plans to pursue a business course, specializing in accounting at Ohio State. In high school he maintained a B average while taking college preparatory courses.

He was active in church and school activities in the Ashville community.

Bob Wolfe, hunting and fishing license agent for Pickaway County, announced today that a total of $15,298 has been collected here for 1961 hunting and fishing licenses.

Of this amount, $8,594 was paid out for hunting licenses and $6,704 for fishing.

Statewide receipts from hunting and fishing licenses and permits for the present fiscal year total more than $2 1/2 million, according to State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson.

It was stated that since July 1, 1961, persons fishing in Ohio waters have paid a total of $1,337,797 for licenses and permits. This represents an increase of $103,358 or about 8 per cent over the previous year.

Hunters, it was reported, have paid $1,295,327 to the State. This figure is down $251,932 or about 16 per cent from a year ago. Included in this total are receipts from deer and duck hunting licenses; game propagation and pheasant reserve licenses; and fur buyers', dog training ground, and scientific collecting permits.

Ferguson stated that the hunting and fishing receipts combined are down about 5 1/2 per cent from the total recorded at this

Heavy Rains Dampen Fine Ohio Fishing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio fishermen must have realized that the perfect stream conditions of the past few weeks wouldn't last, and they didn't.

The Department of Natural Resources reports that heavy rains over most of the state the past few days have caused many streams to become high and muddy.

Here's the weekend outlook: NORTHWESTERN — Many streams have become roily during the past week and fishing has dropped off. Some carp, catfish and bullheads, however, are being taken in scattered areas. Lake fishing likewise has tapered off although some bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish have been reported.

EAST CENTRAL AND SOUTH-EASTERN — Fishing is good in most of the lakes, especially, Seneca, Glendening, Tappan, Monroe, Burr Oak and Clouse. Stream fishing is fair to good in most areas although some streams have become high and roily.

CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN — Rather heavy rains played havoc with both lake and stream conditions and as a result, fishermen have had little success. Most major streams are reported as roily and muddy with few fish being caught.

SOUTHWESTERN — Lakes are producing the best catches. Some of the better spots are: Grant, Kiser, Stonelick, Cowan, Spring Valley, Indian, and Acton.

The only Chicago Cubs who carry single digit uniform numbers are catcher Cuno Barragan, Dick Bertell and Moe Thacker.

Heavy Rains Dampen Fine Ohio Fishing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio fishermen must have realized that the perfect stream conditions of the past few weeks wouldn't last, and they didn't.

The Department of Natural Resources reports that heavy rains over most of the state the past few days have caused many streams to become high and muddy.

Here's the weekend outlook: NORTHWESTERN — Many streams have become roily during the past week and fishing has dropped off. Some carp, catfish and bullheads, however, are being taken in scattered areas. Lake fishing likewise has tapered off although some bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish have been reported.

EAST CENTRAL AND SOUTH-EASTERN—Fishing is good in most of the lakes, especially, Seneca, Clendenen, Tappan, Monroe, Burr Oak, and Clouse. Stream fishing is fair to good in most areas although some streams have become high and roily.

CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN—Rather heavy rains played havoc with both lake and stream conditions and as a result, fishermen have had little success. Most major streams are reported as roily and muddy with few fish being caught.

SOUTHWESTERN — Lakes are producing the best catches. Some of the better spots are: Grant, Kiser, Stonelick, Cowan, Spring Valley, Indian, and Acton.

The only Chicago Cubs who carry single digit uniform numbers are catcher Cuno Barragan, Dick Bertell and Moe Thacker.

Procaine Is Key To Longer Life

By IVA GREEN

Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

An 82-year-old woman doing knee-bends as easily as if she were only 40; an 87-year-old walking up and down stairs without even holding onto the rail!

These are some of the sights to be seen at a hospital behind the Iron Curtain where a woman doctor has been working for years to hold back the ravages time works on the human body.

Her name is Dr. Anna Aslan, and she is an attractive, dark-haired woman who preaches that our normal life expectancy should be about 150 years!

Moreover, she feels that 100 of these 150 years should be youthfully vigorous ones, and even the last 50 should be comfortable and free of pain.

Doctor Aslan has apparently made progress toward this utopia at the Geriatric Institute in Bucharest. She has made old age more comfortable — sometimes even seeming to reverse it — with injections of a common anesthetic called procaine.

The woman physician developed her therapy on the basis of using procaine to ease the discomfort of joint diseases, and discovered that the drug not only relieved oldsters' pain, but made them feel "healthier and more active."

On the basis of tests, Doctor Aslan concluded that at least 50 injections were needed before benefits could be expected. But what improvements were noted among the elderly patients!

They came to the institute fatigued, stooped and apathetic, with dry skin and gray hair. But on procaine, they regained energy they hadn't had in years; their bodies straightened up and became more agile; skin wrinkles disappeared and color returned to hair.

For example, when 86-year-old Hortense Iorgulescu first came, she was virtually crippled with rheumatism. After patient treatment with the drug, she became "surprisingly vital," and found she could bend and stretch again.

The pride of the institute "is 113-year-old Parseh Margosian. He was actually dying when he first received care, but now is healthy, goes for long walks and has regained the brown color in his previously snow-white hair.

Of course, 113 is a ripe old age in anybody's language! Doctor Aslan believes that to enjoy the most benefit from the procaine treatment, a person should start being treated in his or her forties.

Not long ago, she co-operated with an American medical writer named Henry Marx, who wrote a book about her therapy titled "H3." Marx says the procaine used in Bucharest is virtually the same as the novocaine a dentist injects in your gum to dull pain. Its benefits have been known in Europe for some time, he declares, and now the drug is undergoing tests in various parts of the United States.

Meanwhile, the Romanian doctor's therapy continues. The thousands of older people who have found new leases on life form an impressive mass of evidence that old age can be abolished.

Physical Fitness Accented

Local Athletic Club Is Functioning Unit

A group of local high school students, with the assistance of several adult trustees, have come up with a solid physical fitness program.

With the primary aim of promoting physical conditioning, 51 students have banded together to form the "Circleville Athletic Club." Serving as adult trustees to guide the program are Hiram Hatcher of Du Pont, Circleville Patrolman William Brungs, Pastor Carl Zehner and Dr. William Riskey.

Objective of the club is to provide and promote physical conditioning and body building through organized recreation.

The enthusiastic trustees and students have set up operational headquarters at the Neuding building on W. High St., former home of Dean's Potato chips. They hope additional students will join the program in the near future to swell the 51 membership already on the rolls.

PLANS also are in sight for the possible future participation of adults in the fitness endeavor.

The male youth have already elected their officers. They are Gary Betts, president; Bruce Horn, secretary; and Gary Stewart, treasurer. All are Circleville High School students.

The officers, members and trustees meet once a week for planning purposes. The club rooms are open each day from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. for members desiring to work out.

The club area includes two rooms for workouts, a lounge and a shower room. Equipment consists of bar bells, dumbbells, mats, punching bags, boxing gloves and additional conditioning gear.

Most of the equipment has been provided by the individual members. The group plans to obtain more gear in the future.

Trustees today said the athletic club actually serves many purposes here. The program provides wholesome physical training, allows boys to work together and plan their own program and serves as a means of enjoyable recreation and activity.

The majority of the conditioning activity will be conducted in summer months, although a program is planned during school terms.

Soviet Hikes Food Prices

Lag in Agriculture Is Cited as Reason

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today hiked consumer prices of meat and butter to finance the country's lagging agricultural program in the face of food shortages.

Butter—up 25 per cent—will cost $1.83 a pound; pork and beef—up 30 per cent—will retail for 88 cents a pound.

The effect of the increases are measured against salaries much lower than those in most foreign countries. A semiskilled Soviet worker gets the equivalent of $88 a month, professional and semiprofessional people about $222 a month.

The government announcement said that the increased charges were necessary because there was no other means of raising money to pay the increased expenses on farms.

Blame was placed in part upon the United States. The statement said it was not possible to "switch funds to increasing the output of livestock products at the expense of the country's defensive capacity."

"We do not live in a vacuum. While imperialism exists, the danger of new wars will remain. It is no secret that international reaction, with the United States at the head, now is engaged in sabre rattling, conducts a feverish arms race and harbors plans for a surprise rocket nuclear attack on the U.S.S.R. and the other socialist countries. Its politicians and generals speak openly of this."

The order for the increase in prices was issued by the Communist party central committee and the government. Its effect was law since all stores are government stores and the prices are fixed by decree.

The statement said the cost of producing food, meat and butter had increased sharply because of the expenditures on mechanization on the farms.

The announcement made it plain that people in the cities are going to bear the lion's share of the burden of the increased prices. That will tend to level out the living standards of the city and country groups. Normally city people have lived better in the Soviet Union because of a sharp salary and income advantage accorded them from the time of the revolution.

Last year 91,824 seniors graduated from high school, 68.9 per cent of the youngsters who started in the first grade in 1949.

Procaine Is Key To Longer Life

By IVA GREEN

Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

An 82-year-old woman doing knee-bends as easily as if she were only 40; an 87-year-old walking up and down stairs without even holding onto the rail!

These are some of the sights to be seen at a hospital behind the Iron Curtain where a woman doctor has been working for years to hold back the ravages time works on the human body.

Her name is Dr. Anna Aslan, and she is an attractive, dark-haired woman who preaches that our normal life expectancy should be about 150 years!

Moreover, she feels that 100 of these 150 years should be youthful, vigorous ones, and even the last 50 should be comfortable and free of pain.

Doctor Aslan has apparently made progress toward this utopia at the Geriatric Institute in Bucharest. She has made old age more comfortable — sometimes even seeming to reverse it — with injections of a common anesthetic called procaine.

The woman physician developed her therapy on the basis of using procaine to ease the discomfort of joint diseases, and discovered that the drug not only relieved oldsters' pain, but made them feel "healthier and more active."

On the basis of tests, Doctor Aslan concluded that at least 50 injections were needed before benefits could be expected. But what improvements were noted among the elderly patients!

They came to the institute fatigued, stooped and apathetic, with dry skin and gray hair. But on procaine, they regained energy they hadn't had in years; their bodies straightened up and became more agile; skin wrinkles disappeared and color returned to hair.

For example, when 86-year-old Hortense Iorgulescu first came, she was virtually crippled with rheumatism. After patient treatment with the drug, she became "surprisingly vital," and found she could bend and stretch again.

The pride of the institute "is 113-year-old Parash Margosian. He was actually dying when he first received care, but now is healthy, goes for long walks and has regained the brown color in his previously snow-white hair.

Of course, 113 is a ripe old age in anybody's language! Doctor Aslan believes that to enjoy the most benefit from the procaine treatment, a person should start being treated in his or her forties.

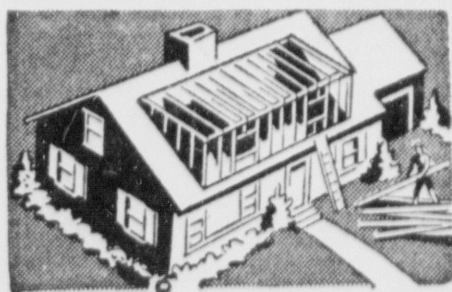

Not long ago, she co-operated with an American medical writer named Henry Marx, who wrote a book about her therapy titled "H3." Marx says the procaine used in Bucharest is virtually the same as the novocaine a dentist injects in your gum to dull pain. Its benefits have been known in Europe for some time, he declares, and now the drug is undergoing tests in various parts of the United States.

Meanwhile, the Romanian doctor's therapy continues. The thousands of older people who have found new leases on life form an impressive mass of evidence that old age can be abolished.

ACCUSED MASS KILLER QUESTIONED—Accused of killing his uncle, aunt and three cousins, Gayno Smith (center), 24, is questioned by Kookuk County Sheriff John (Bud) Wallerich (back to camera) in Sigourney, Ia., following his capture in a hayloft. He denies the charge.

Physical Fitness Accented

Local Athletic Club Is Functioning Unit

A group of local high school students, with the assistance of several adult trustees, have come up with a solid physical fitness program.

With the primary aim of promoting physical conditioning, 51 students have banded together to form the "Circleville Athletic Club." Serving as adult trustees to guide the program are Hiram Hatcher of Du Pont, Circleville Patrolman William Brungs, Pastor Carl Zehner and Dr. William Riskey.

Objective of the club is to provide and promote physical conditioning and body building through organized recreation.

The enthusiastic trustees and students have set up operational headquarters at the Neuding building on W. High St., former home of Dean's Potato chips. They hope additional students will join the program in the near future to swell the 51 membership already on the rolls.

PLANS also are in sight for the possible future participation of adults in the fitness endeavor.

The male youth have already elected their officers. They are Gary Betts, president; Bruce Horn, secretary; and Gary Stewart, treasurer. All are Circleville High School students.

The officers, members and trustees meet once a week for planning purposes. The club rooms are open each day from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. for members desiring to work out.

The club area includes two rooms for workouts, a lounge and a shower room. Equipment consists of bar bells, dumbbells, mats, punching bags, boxing gloves and additional conditioning gear.

Most of the equipment has been provided by the individual members. The group plans to obtain more gear in the future.

Trustees today said the athletic club actually serves many purposes here. The program provides wholesome physical training, allows boys to work together and plan their own program and serves as a means of enjoyable recreation and activity.

The majority of the conditioning activity will be conducted in summer months, although a program is planned during school terms.

Soviet Hikes Food Prices

Lag in Agriculture Is Cited as Reason

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today hiked consumer prices of meat and butter to finance the country's lagging agricultural program in the face of food shortages.

Butter—up 25 per cent—will cost $1.83 a pound; pork and beef—up 30 per cent—will retail for 88 cents a pound.

The effect of the increases are measured against salaries much lower than those in most foreign countries. A semiskilled Soviet worker gets the equivalent of $88 a month, professional and semiprofessional people about $222 a month.

The government announcement said that the increased charges were necessary because there was no other means of raising money to pay the increased expenses on farms.

Blame was placed in part upon the United States. The statement said it was not possible to "switch funds to increasing the output of livestock products at the expense of the country's defensive capacity."

"We do not live in a vacuum. While imperialism exists, the danger of new wars will remain. It is no secret that international reaction, with the United States at the head, now is engaged in sabre rattling, conducts a feverish arms race and harbors plans for a surprise rocket nuclear attack on the U.S.S.R. and the other socialist countries. Its politicians and generals speak openly of this."

The order for the increase in prices was issued by the Communist party central committee and the government. Its effect was law since all stores are government stores and the prices are fixed by decree.

The statement said the cost of producing food, meat and butter had increased sharply because of the expenditures on mechanization on the farms.

The announcement made it plain that people in the cities are going to bear the lion's share of the burden of the increased prices. That will tend to level out the living standards of the city and country groups. Normally city people have lived better in the Soviet Union because of a sharp salary and income advantage accorded them from the time of the revolution.

Last year 91,824 seniors graduated from high school, 68.9 per cent of the youngsters who started in the first grade in 1949.
